IOB.1.c		Are there reservations in place? Please list them.	Best practice is no reservations. If there are, they should have little or no impact on the rights of stateless people.	Yes, the provisions of Articles 17 & 18 on wage-earning employment and self-employment, are recognised as recommendations only.	https://treaties.un.org/doc/publication/mtdsg/volume%20i/chapter%20v/v-3.en.pdf
IOB.1.d		Does the Convention have direct effect?	Best practice is that the Convention has direct effect, though this may depend on the legal regime.	Yes. Ratification of international treaties through enactment gives automatic legal effect at national level, even without the adoption of implementing legislation (in the case of the 1954 Convention, there is no comprehensive legislation implementing its provisions). IOB.2.c		Are there reservations in place? Please list them.	As above	No.
IOB.2.d		Does the Convention have direct effect?	As above	Yes. Italy ratified the 1961 Convention, which means that it has legal effect. Stateless Population Data

Item	Subtheme	Question	International Norms & Good Practice	Answer	Source
POP.1.a	Availability and sources	Does the Government have a 'stateless' category in its data collection systems (e.g. census)? Please list available figures for the total stateless population on the territory and describe how data is disaggregated (e.g. by sex, age, residence).	Gen. Rec. 32, CEDAW: States parties should gather, analyse and make available sex-disaggregated statistical data and trends. Council of the European Union (2015): Recognise the importance of exchanging good practices among Member States concerning the collection of reliable data on stateless persons as well as the procedures for determining statelessness. UNHCR (2014): Improve quantitative and qualitative data on stateless populations. Institute on Statelessness and Inclusion (2014): States should strengthen measures to count stateless persons on their territory.	Yes, there is a category for stateless people in the Government's annual censuses. The most recent data is provided by the Istituto Nazionale di Statistica (ISTAT). The statistical data from population censuses as of 31 December 2019 counts 538 stateless persons (280 men and 258 women) (down from a total of 822 on 1 January 2019). The overall number is low because the Italian Government census counts only stateless persons who are officially recognised as stateless and residing in Italy. The data is disaggregated but the annual census on stateless people shows only sex-disaggregated data for recognised stateless persons. In the Government Census, stateless persons are distinguished by Regions where they have their residence.	ISTAT data on stateless people by sex and region of residence including trends in recent years: https://www.tuttitalia.it/statistiche/cittadini-stranieri/apolidi (IT) Italian National Institute of Statistics: https://www.istat.it/it/archivio/251651 Istat, Gli stranieri al Censimento della popolazione, 15 dic 2020 (data on foreigners in Italy registered for the population Census): https://www.istat.it/it/files/2020/12/REPORT_CENSIPOP_2020.pdf (IT)
POP.1.b		Do government authorities define data categories that may overlap (e.g. unknown nationality) or where stateless people might be more highly represented (e.g. Palestinian)? Please explain and provide any available figures.	As above	Yes, there are other categories that overlap with statelessness. In the portal of the Italian census on the resident population counted per year, the definitions of "foreigner" and "stateless" are in the same check box (section), so it may overlap. POP.1.c		What is UNHCR's estimate for the stateless/at risk of statelessness population and what is the source for this estimate?	As above	UNHCR states on its website, "Although statistics on the exact size of the stateless population in Italy are not available; it is estimated that the majority of stateless people living in Italy are of Roma descent, originating from former Yugoslavia. Many have not been recognised as Italian nationals	UNHCR, Italy joins top league of countries reducing statelessness: http://www.unhcr.org/ibelong/italy-joins-top-league-of-countries-reducing-statelessness/ UNHCR publication on reducing

				despite living in the country for generations.” The working group on statelessness in Italy, in which UNHCR participates, estimates there to be between 3,000 to 15,000 people stateless or at risk of statelessness in Italy. Most belong to the Roma community originating from former Yugoslavia; the rest come from Tibet, Palestine, Eritrea and Ethiopia. Among the population at risk of statelessness there are also asylum-seekers, including minors, originating from Sub-Saharan Africa due to the lack of birth certificates and documents certifying their nationality.	statelessness, July 2020: https://www.unhcr.org/it/wp-content/uploads/sites/97/2020/07/Po-re_Fine_all_Apolidia_IT.pdf Raccomandazioni del tavolo di lavoro sull’apolidia sulla protezione degli apolidi e sulla riduzione dell’apolidia in Italia, Agosto 2020: https://tavoloapolidia.org/app/uploads/2020/08/Advocacy-Paper-Tavolo-Apolidia_v2020_def.pdf (IT) Press Release from the Statelessness roundtable 2018: https://www.unhcr.org/it/notizie-storie/comunicati-stampa/apolidi-italia-tavolo-apolidia-la-rete-della-societa-civile-tutelare-le-persone-apolide/#:~:text=In%20Italia%20le%20stime%20elaborate,persone%20apolidi%20o%20a%20rischio%20apolidia.&text=Le%20persone%20apolidi%20riconosciute%20in,CITTADINANZA%20SEI%20UNA%20PERSONA%20LIBERA.%E2%80%9D (IT) Sources listed in recommendations: Associazione 21 luglio ONLUS- Rapporto Annuale 2016, aprile 2017: http://www.21luglio.org/21luglio/wp-content/uploads/2018/04/Rapporto_Annuale-2017_web.pdf (IT) XVI Legislatura, Senato della Repubblica, Commissione straordinaria per la tutela e la promozione dei diritti umani, Rapporto conclusivo dell’indagine sulla condizione di Rom, Sinti e Caminanti in Italia, p. 23: http://www.senato.it/documenti/repository/commissioni/dirittiumani16/Rapporto%20conclusivo%20indagine%20rom,%20sinti%20e%20caminanti.pdf (IT) Report “The impact of statelessness on access to human rights in Italy, Portugal and Spain”, October 2019: https://www.unhcr.it/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/UNHCR_Impact-of-Statelessness-ITPTES_def_web.pdf Link in Italian: https://www.unhcr.it/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/UNHCR_Impatto_apolidia_ITPTES_def_web.pdf UNHCR Global Trends 2018, 19 June 2019: https://www.unhcr.org/statistics/unhcrstats/5d08d7ee7/unhcr-global-trends-2018.html
POP.1.d		Have there been any surveys or mapping studies to estimate the stateless population in the country?	As above	Yes.	Report “The impact of statelessness on access to human rights in Italy, Portugal and Spain”, October 2019: https://www.unhcr.it/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/UNHCR_Impact-of-Statelessness-ITPTES_def_web.pdf Link in Italian: https://www.unhcr.it/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/UNHCR_Impatto_apolidia_ITPTES_def_web.pdf UNHCR Global Trends 2018, 19 June 2019: https://www.unhcr.org/statistics/unhcrstats/5d08d7ee7/unhcr-global-trends-2018.html
POP.1.e		Are there any other sources of estimates for the stateless population not covered by the above? Please list sources and figures.	As above	The IDOS Study Centre, based on data collected by MIUR (Ministry of Education, University and Research), published figures on stateless students attending Italian schools. The research shows that, in the school year 2017-2018, 354 stateless persons	Centro Studi e Ricerche IDOS, Dossier Statistico Immigrazione 2019, p. 471 https://www.dossierimmigrazione.it/ UNICEF 2019 report on ending childhood statelessness:

				attended Italian schools (58 kindergarten, 179 primary school, 105 secondary school and 12 high school).	https://www.unicef.org/eca/media/5941/file/Ending%20childhood%20statelessness%20in%20Europe%20UNICEF-UNHCR.pdf
POP.1.f		Are there issues with the reliability of data or indications that the stateless population may be over/under reported? If yes, please describe.	As above	Issues are mainly related to the difficulty of mapping stateless persons without a residence permit about whom very little information is available. Data on the stateless population is likely underreported and underestimated and there are many contradictions in available data. The Italian census system counts only persons recognised as stateless in a dedicated determination procedure. The actual situation is largely underreported.	Consiglio Italiano per i Rifugiati (CIR) practice
POP.1.g		Please provide any available figures for stateless refugees and/or asylum-seekers and clarify if the Government also counts these groups in figures for the stateless population (i.e. to avoid under/over-reporting).	As above	There is no official data available on stateless refugees or asylum seekers.
POP.2.a	Stateless in detention data	Does the Government record and publish figures on stateless people held in immigration detention? If yes, please provide.	As above and see also norms in Detention section.	There is no official data available on stateless people in immigration detention (pre-removal centres) in Italy. A 2019 report by the National Guarantor states that 4,092 persons transited through pre-removal detention centres in 2018 and lists the nationalities held by the detainees, none of which refers to statelessness. The most recent Guarantor report does not contain relevant data. However, there have been reports of stateless in immigration detention (see DET1e).	Garante Nazionale dei diritti delle persone detenute o private della libertà personale, Relazione al parlamento 2019, http://www.garantenazionaleprivatiliberta.it/gnpl/resources/cms/documents/00059ffe970d21856c9d52871fb31fe7.pdf
POP.2.b		Does the Government record and publish figures on people released from immigration detention due to un-removability? If yes, please provide.	As above	There is no official data available on stateless people in administrative immigration detention (pre-removal centres) in Italy. Some general data on immigration detention in Italy is reported by the Global Detention Project. Some general data can also be found in the Report to the Parliament by the National Guarantor for the rights of persons detained or deprived of liberty. The statistics published by the National Guarantor that provide the reasons for release from pre-removal detention do not include a category of "un-removability". Persons released from detention for reasons related with un-removability, in particular stateless persons for whom a country of return could not be identified or effected, may potentially fall within the category "order of the Questore for expiration of the maximum term" (20% of the total releases from pre-removal detention centres). Other categories that may be relevant are "detention not validated by the judicial authority" (23%) and "released for other reasons" (7%). Statelessness Determination and Status

SDS.1.a	Definition of a stateless person	Is there a definition of a stateless person in national law? Do the definition and exclusion provisions align with the 1954 Convention? Please provide details.	UN Convention Relating to the Status of Stateless Persons, 1954 : Articles 1(1) & 1(2).	Italy ratified the 1954 Convention in February 1962. National law does not provide a definition of a 'stateless person' so the 1954 Convention definition applies.	LEGGE 1 febbraio 1962, n. 306, Ratifica ed esecuzione della Convenzione relativa allo status degli apolidi, adottata a New York il 28 settembre 1954: http://www.gazzettaufficiale.it/atto/serie_generale/caricaDettaglioAtto/originario?atto.dataPubblicazioneGazzetta=1962-06-07&atto.codiceRedazionale=062U0306&elenco30giorni=false (IT)
SDS.1.b	Training	Is there training to inform different government bodies about statelessness? If yes, please provide details (e.g. who provides training to whom/how often?)	UNHCR Executive Committee (2006) : Requests UNHCR to actively disseminate information and, where appropriate, train government counterparts on appropriate mechanisms for identifying, recording, and granting a status to stateless persons.	No compulsory trainings are provided to officials competent for the administrative procedure. A draft law on the recognition of stateless status submitted in 2015 provided that public administration personnel and administrative stakeholders should receive basic training on the implementation of the regulations of the offices and services in which they perform their activity. A new Parliament was elected in 2018, but the draft law has not been resubmitted and no relevant changes occurred. UNHCR delivers ad hoc statelessness-related training to asylum decision-makers. In December 2019, the Ministry of Interior published a call to select 20 experts to strengthen the capacity of the office working on nationality and statelessness applications. SDS.1.c		Is there training for judges and lawyers on statelessness? If yes, please provide details (e.g. provider, frequency).	UNHCR (2016) : Officials who may be in contact with stateless persons need to be trained to identify potential applicants for stateless status and refer them to appropriate channels. UNHCR (2010) : It is recommended that States provide specialised training on nationality laws and practices, international standards and statelessness to officials responsible for making statelessness determinations.	Since reforms to the judicial procedure in 2017, which attributed the competence to conduct SDPs to specialised sections of the Civil Court, a specific annual training is provided by the "Scuola Superiore della Magistratura" (Judicial Training Centre). Law 13/2017 states that specialised training is compulsory for judges of the specialised sections and members of territorial commission. UNHCR cooperates with the courts to deliver ad hoc statelessness trainings. Other ad hoc training courses are provided by academics, professionals, lawyers' associations, NGOs, UNHCR and other civil society associations with trainers from different professional backgrounds. These are mainly focused on immigration issues and are not exclusively concerned with statelessness but do provide some knowledge, tools and skills to address statelessness and the right to nationality. SDS.2.c		Can submissions be made orally and/or in writing in any language?	ENS (2013) : Bureaucratic difficulties (e.g. complicated forms, inflexible procedures, language restrictions etc.) can impede access to SDPs.	There is no provision requiring that the application in the administrative procedure be submitted in any specific language. Practice shows that applicants present their applications in Italian. In the judicial procedure, the appeal must be lodged in Italian and there is no obligation to present evidence in Italian (certified translations). In practice, depending on the language, translation is required to understand the content. Most lawyers prefer to have a certified translation of the documents. In the administrative procedure applications should be made in written form, through the local Prefecture, to the Ministry of Interior. An applicant who wants to claim stateless status at the Police Headquarters, for example, can ask for information orally, but they are then invited to lodge the application with the Prefecture. SDS.4.c		Is free interpreting offered for statelessness determination interviews?	UNHCR (2014) : The right to assistance with interpretation/translation [is] essential. ENS (2013) : Assistance should be available for translation and interpretation.	No, in the administrative procedure there is no individual interview. In the judicial procedure, claimants can be heard, but interpreters are usually not provided in practice.	Bianchini K., Protecting Stateless Persons. SDS.4.d		Are there quality assurance audits of the SDP?	UNHCR (2016) : Quality assurance audits of SDPs are considered good practice.	No.
SDS.4.e		What role does UNHCR play in the proceedings (e.g. access to files, monitoring, training)?	UNHCR (2014) : States are encouraged to guarantee access to UNHCR as a safeguard in the procedure.	UNHCR does not participate in the proceedings. Nevertheless, UNHCR is the main actor in providing (non-compulsory) training and guidelines.	Consiglio Italiano per i Rifugiati (CIR) practice
SDS.4.f		Are decisions (refusals and grants) given in writing with reasons?	UNHCR (2014) : States are encouraged to incorporate the safeguard that decisions are made in writing with reasons.	Administrative decisions are notified to the persons concerned in writing with reasons, but these are usually very brief. The recognition provided by the Civil Court in the judicial procedure gives the reasons on which the judgment is based. SDS.4.g		Is there a timeframe for the SDP set in law or policy and is it complied with in practice?	UNHCR (2014) : It is undesirable for a first instance decision to be issued more than six months from submission of an application. In exceptional circumstances it may be appropriate to allow the proceedings to last up to 12 months.	A maximum timeframe of 350 days - or 895 days in case the opinion of a foreign authority or Ministry of Foreign Affairs is requested - is set for the administrative procedure, but it is seldom respected in practice. Some clients assisted by CIR have waited for five years for a decision in the administrative procedure and in one case, the person concerned waited approximately 13 years. SDS.4.h		Is there a referral mechanism from refugee status determination procedures to the statelessness procedure (e.g. if refused asylum)?	UNHCR (2016) : Efficient referral mechanisms should be established and officials who may be in contact with stateless persons trained to identify and refer potential applicants. ENS (2013) : Cross-referral systems should exist in cases where the two determination procedures (refugee and stateless) are not conducted in a joint framework.	No.	Consiglio Italiano per i Rifugiati (CIR) practice
SDS.5.a	Protection during SDP (Group 1)	Does the applicant have automatic legal admission while their claim for stateless status is assessed or is there a risk of expulsion?	UNHCR (2014) : An individual awaiting a decision is entitled, at a minimum, to all rights based on presence in the territory as well as 'lawfully in' rights (including identity papers, the right to self-employment, freedom of movement, protection against expulsion). It is recommended that individuals receive the same treatment as asylum-seekers. ENS (2013) : States should refrain from expelling or removing an individual pending the outcome of the determination process.	People who apply for recognition of stateless status to the Ministry of the Interior or Civil Court may apply and are generally granted temporary permission to stay, renewable while their application is being processed. However, practice shows that the issuance of a residence permit pending the judicial procedure is discretionary to the Police. It is possible that pending the judicial procedure applicants may be stopped by the police and asked about their status. If the applicant is already in possession of a residence permit (e.g. for study) when applying for stateless status, a specific temporary residence permit is issued pending the SDP. Article 31 of the 1954 Convention provides that a stateless person cannot be expelled except in cases of well-documented reasons related to national security and public order. In 2019, the Court of Cassation ruled that this rule shall also apply to people at risk of statelessness and/or pending the SDP, when the statelessness situation of the person emerges clearly from the information or documentation of the competent public authorities of the Italian State, of the State of origin or of the State with which it is established the person has a significant link. SDS.5.b		Do applicants for stateless status have permission to work and access to assistance to meet their basic needs?	UNHCR (2014) : Allowing individuals to engage in wage-earning employment can reduce pressure on State resources and contributes to dignity and self-sufficiency. The status of those awaiting statelessness determination must reflect applicable human rights such as, assistance to meet basic needs.	The law does not specify the right to work pending the procedure. In practice, different sources report different and inconsistent practice in relation to the temporary permit and the right to work. The law does not specify the right to assistance for applicants to meet their basic needs. The temporary residence permit issued to applicants that were already in possession of another residence permit (e.g., for study) allows the right to work. In practice, it is quite unusual for a person to hold a residence permit before applying for stateless status. SDS.5.c		Do applicants for stateless status face a risk of detention?	UNHCR (2014) : Routine detention of individuals seeking protection on the grounds of statelessness is arbitrary. Detention is a measure of last resort and can only be justified where other less invasive or coercive measures have been considered and found insufficient to safeguard the lawful governmental objective pursued by detention.	In the administrative procedure applicants are issued with a temporary residence permit, so they are not detained. In the judicial procedure, if applicants are not in possession of a residence permit, there is a risk of detention. SDS.6.a	Appeals (Group 1)	Is there an automatic right of appeal?	UNHCR (2014) : An effective right to appeal against a negative first instance decision is an essential safeguard in an SDP.	In the case of a negative outcome in the administrative procedure it is possible to undertake the judicial procedure before the Civil Court. In the judicial procedure it is possible to appeal before the Court of Appeal and then before the Court of Cassation. SDS.6.b		Is legal aid available for appeals?	UNHCR (2014): The applicant should have access to legal counsel and, where free legal assistance is available, it should be offered to applicants without financial means. ENS (2013): Applicants should have access to legal counsel both at first instance and on appeal.	In a court procedure free legal assistance can be obtained if the applicant can fulfil specific income requirements (annual income of around EUR 11,000 (amount is modified every year) and no assets. Bianchini reports that ‘a stateless person has the right to receive legal aid if he resides lawfully in the territory of the State. Nevertheless, the majority of the case law also extends this right to persons with unlawful status. In these cases, to access legal aid, the person is exempt from providing a number of documents, such as the Italian Tax Code for himself and his family. The Constitutional Court held that in these cases, it is sufficient that the person states on his application for legal aid his name, last name, place and date of birth and State in which he is normally liable to pay taxes. The main problems concern the availability and quality of legal aid, which vary considerably, depending on the region where an applicant resides.’	Bianchini K., Protecting Stateless Persons. SDS.6.c		Is there a fee for the appeal application?	UNHCR (2014): An effective right to appeal against a negative first instance decision is an essential safeguard.	If free legal aid is provided there is no fee to lodge the appeal. If the applicant does not qualify for legal aid, they should pay a fee for the judicial procedure, which is usually EUR 259 for first instance courts. If the first instance claim is rejected by the Judge, the applicant may lodge a further appeal. Legal aid is available for eligible applicants, otherwise the fee for proceedings before the Appeal Court is usually EUR 388.50. SDS.7.a	Stateless status (Group 1)	Does recognition of statelessness result immediately in automatic permission to stay/legal status? If not, please describe any additional requirements, admissibility criteria, grounds for refusal or other steps required to access protection.	UNHCR (2014): The status granted to a stateless person in a State Party must reflect international standards. Although the 1954 Convention does not explicitly require States to grant a person determined to be stateless a right of residence, granting such permission would fulfil the object and purpose of the treaty.	Recognition of statelessness by the Ministry of the Interior or a civil court allows the person to immediately apply for a residence permit. As there is no law or decree providing detailed rules on this matter, the issuing of the residence permit is based on the 1954 Convention. Once recognised as stateless, there are no additional requirements. The duration of the residence permit depends on each police office, due to lack of regulation on the matter. SDS.7.b		How long is initial status granted for and is it renewable?	UNHCR (2014): It is recommended that States grant recognised stateless people a residence permit valid for at least two years, although longer permits, such as five years, are preferable in the interests of stability. Permits should be renewable.	Legally recognised stateless persons are normally granted a permit to stay that is valid for two years and is renewable. However, in practice, the duration of the residence permit is at the discretion of the Police, so there is huge variation. As there is no law or decree providing detailed rules on this matter, the issuing of the residence permit is based on the 1954 Convention. There are no specific family reunion provisions for stateless people, so the same family reunion rules for lawfully resident non-EU nationals apply. SDS.7.e	On what grounds (if any) may residence status granted to stateless people be revoked?	UNHCR (2014) : If an individual recognised as stateless subsequently acquires or reacquires the nationality of another State, they will cease to be stateless under the 1954 Convention. This may justify the cancellation of a residence permit on the basis of statelessness, although proportionality considerations under international human rights law, such as the right to a private and family life should be taken into account. DET.1.a	Detention screening	Are immigration detention powers provided for in law? Please provide the legal source(s).	ICCPR Article 9(1) ECHR Article 5 (1)	Yes, immigration detention is provided for in the Consolidated Immigration Act, which, although amended several times, constitutes the main legislation relevant to immigration detention. The last reforms were in Law 46/2017, Law 132/2018, and Law 173/2020. Additionally, there are provisions for detention of asylum seekers in Decree 142/2015. DET.1.b		Does domestic law allow immigration detention for purposes other than those listed under ECHR 5(1)(f)?	ECHR Article 5(1)(f)	No, but in practice there are some violations of ECHR highlighted by caselaw (not necessarily referring to stateless people) related to widespread practice of detaining migrants and asylum seekers in "hotspots". DET.1.c		Does a proposed country of removal need to be identified before a person is detained for removal? Please describe the situation in law and in practice.	ICCPR Article 7: Repeated attempts to expel a person to a country that refuses to admit them could amount to inhuman or degrading treatment. Auad v Bulgaria ECtHR (2011): The only issue is whether the authorities were sufficiently diligent in their efforts to deport the applicant. EU Returns Directive: Any detention shall only be maintained as long as removal arrangements are in progress and executed with due diligence.	There is no explicit requirement in the law to identify the country of removal before a person is detained for the purpose of removal. Nationality information can be provided initially by the detainee. Identification or confirmation of country of removal is not a condition to authorise detention. It is possible to be detained in order to be identified. Administrative immigration detention is subject to judicial review 60 days (asylum seekers) or 30 days (all other foreigners) from the first judicial validation of detention. If it is necessary to ascertain the person’s identity, nationality or to acquire travel documents, detention can be extended for further 30 days. The District Police Chief can ask the judge for an extension of detention up to 90 days if it is likely that the person can be identified or if preparation for removal requires more time. If the country of removal has stipulated a repatriation agreement with Italy, detention can be extended for an additional 30 days.	DECRETO LEGISLATIVO n. 286, of 25 July 1998, Testo Unico delle Disposizioni Concernenti la Disciplina dell’immigrazione e Norme sulla Condizione dello Straniero Art. 14. DET.1.d		Is statelessness juridically relevant in decisions to detain? Please describe how (risk of) statelessness is identified and whether referral to an SDP is possible from detention.	Auad v Bulgaria ECtHR (2011) Mikolenko v. Estonia ECtHR (2009): Detention may only be justified as long as deportation proceedings are being conducted with due diligence. UNHCR (2014): Routine detention of individuals seeking protection on the grounds of statelessness is arbitrary. Equal Rights Trust (2012): States must identify stateless persons within their territory or subject to their jurisdiction as a first step towards ensuring the protection of their human rights. International Commission of Jurists (2014): The detention of stateless persons can never be justified when there is no active or realistic progress towards transfer to another State.	Yes, statelessness is relevant in administrative immigration detention decisions because it affects the prospects of removability. Administrative detention cannot be applied to a recognised stateless person who is legally resident on Italian territory. If lacking documents and/or a residence permit, the situation of a person at risk of statelessness is similar to that of an irregularly staying migrant. Authorities must verify the nationality of foreign nationals on arrival, during detention, and in the course of each periodic review of the lawfulness of detention. Referral to an SDP is theoretically possible from detention but there is no specific information provided or referral mechanism in place. Importantly, in June 2019, the Court of Cassation issued a judgment affirming that detention of "de facto stateless" people needs to follow the same rules as that of people whose statelessness has been determined, i.e. they cannot be expelled unless they pose a threat to security and public order). The Court found that "Article 31 of the New York Convention, which provides that a stateless person may not be expelled except in cases of documented existence of reasons of national security and public order, extends by analogy to situations of de facto statelessness and/or pending the procedure to ascertain statelessness, when the situation of the person emerges clearly from the information or documentation provided by the competent public authorities of the Italian State, the State of origin or of the State to which a significant connection with the person concerned may be established". The case concerned a "de facto stateless person" who had been previously detained on several occasions, but always released due to the impossibility of retrieving documentation needed to remove him to a third State. The ruling had an important impact to counter the repeated detention of Romani people who are stateless or at risk of statelessness in Italy.	DECRETO LEGISLATIVO n. 286, of 25 July 1998, Testo Unico delle Disposizioni Concernenti la Disciplina dell’immigrazione e Norme sulla Condizione dello Straniero (IT) CIR, "In the Sun - Survey on the phenomenon of statelessness among Roma communities living in Italy", February 2013, p. 52 (footnote 73) Consiglio Italiano per i Rifugiati (CIR) practice Corte di Cassazione, sez. DET.1.e		Are stateless people detained in practice?		Yes, people at risk of statelessness can be detained in practice as a direct consequence of their lack of documents and their irregular status in Italy. Although no official data is published on the detention of stateless people, the Human Rights Committee of the Italian Senate in 2017 noted the detention of a number of people at risk of statelessness, many from Roma communities living in Italy for many years. There is also a 2015 judgment concerning a woman with five children detained in a pre-removal centre despite it	DECRETO LEGISLATIVO n. 286, of 25 July 1998, Testo Unico delle Disposizioni Concernenti la Disciplina dell’immigrazione e Norme sulla Condizione dello Straniero, art. 14. 				being clear that repatriation was impossible because of the impossibility to identify a 'country of origin'. The judge ruled in favour of the family, reasoning that in the absence of the actual possibility to be removed, detention in pre-removal centres is illegal. There are reports stating that stateless people have been detained in recent years, in particular members of the Roma community who have been repeatedly detained. A 2019 judgment by the Court of Cassation (see above, under DET.1.e) stated that detention of "de facto stateless" people needs to follow the same rules as that of people whose statelessness has been determined, i.e., they cannot be expelled unless they pose a threat to security and public order.	ASGI, "Cassazione: se mancano le prospettive di rimpatrio, il trattenimento nel CIE è illegittimo" (Cass.civ.sez. DET.1.f		Does law (and/or policy) provide that immigration detention should be used only as a last resort, after all alternatives have been exhausted in each individual case?	UNHCR (2014): Detention is a measure of last resort and can only be justified where other less invasive or coercive measures have been considered and found insufficient. EU Returns Directive: Article 15(1)	The principle of the state being obliged to consider all less coercive measures prior to issuing a decision to detain for removal purposes is not laid down in law, neither for asylum seekers nor for other migrants. Alternative measures can be considered, but nowhere does the law foresee a hierarchy among them and detention; in other words, the law does not foresee that administrative detention is a measure of last resort.	DECRETO LEGISLATIVO n. 286, of 25 July 1998, Testo Unico delle Disposizioni Concernenti la Disciplina dell'immigrazione e Norme sulla Condizione dello Straniero, art. 14.1-bis (IT) DECRETO LEGISLATIVO n. 142, of 18 August 2015, Attuazione della direttiva 2013/33/UE recante norme relative all'accoglienza dei richiedenti protezione internazionale, nonché della direttiva 2013/32/UE, recante procedure comuni ai fini del riconoscimento e della revoca dello status di protezione internazionale, Art. 6.8. DET.1.g		Are individual vulnerability assessments carried out before a decision to detain (or soon after)? Art. 7.5 of the Decree defines as vulnerable: minors, unaccompanied minors, pregnant women, single parents with minor children, victims of trafficking, disabled, elderly people, persons affected by serious illness or mental disorders, persons for whom it has been proved they have experienced torture, rape or other serious forms of psychological, physical or sexual violence or violence due to their sexual orientation/gender identity, and victims of genital mutilation. Statelessness is not considered as a vulnerability factor per se. Similarly, when forcible removal has been ordered, the Police can apply one or more of the above measures instead of detention. However, this in practice occurs very rarely and nowhere in the law is it foreseen that detention is a measure of last resort.
DET.2.b		Is there evidence that immigration detention is used in practice prior to all alternatives being considered?	As above.	Yes, there are reports confirming that in practice immigration detention is used prior to alternatives to detention. DET.3.a	Procedural safeguards	Is there a maximum time period for immigration detention set in law? What is it?	UN Human Rights Council (2010) : A maximum period of detention must be established by law and upon expiry the detainee must be automatically released. UNHCR (2012) : To guard against arbitrariness, maximum periods of detention should be set in national law. EU Returns Directive: Article 15(5) Equal Rights Trust (2012) : Detention should always be for the shortest time possible.	Yes, there is. For non-asylum seekers, detention can be imposed initially for 30 days and can be subsequently extended for additional 30 days periods. Law 173/2020 introduced shortened maximum time periods in the Consolidated Immigration Act, which is now 90 days or 120 days for nationals of a country with which Italy has concluded repatriation agreement. For asylum seekers detained in pre-removal centres, detention can be imposed for 60 days and subsequently extended for additional 60 days periods. The maximum time limit is 12 months. Assistance by a lawyer is compulsory in all hearings, and if the detainee does not have one, an ex officio lawyer is appointed. DET.3.b		Does law/policy provide that individuals must be informed in writing of the reasons for their immigration detention?	UN General Assembly (1988) : Anyone who is arrested shall be informed at the time of the reason for his arrest. EU Returns Directive : Detention shall be ordered in writing with reasons being given in fact and in law. Equal Rights Trust (2012) : Stateless detainees shall receive their order of detention in writing and in a language they understand. International Commission of Jurists (2014) : The authorities shall ensure that sufficient information is available to detained persons in a language they understand on the nature of their detention and reasons for it.	Yes. Under the Consolidated Immigration Act, the expulsion must contain the reasons for detention and remedies. The order is delivered in writing in a language the person understands or French, English or Spanish. DET.3.c		Are detainees provided with information on their rights, contact details of legal advice and support providers, and guidance on how to access an SDP?	Equal Rights Trust (2012) : Detaining authorities are urged to provide stateless detainees with a handbook in a language and terms they understand, containing information on all their rights and entitlements, contact details of organisations which are mandated to protect them, NGOs and visiting groups and advice on how to challenge the legality of their detention and their treatment as detainees.	There is no specific SDP referral mechanism or information for detainees. The pre-removal centres regulation provides for an obligation to inform all detainees of their rights and duties in an understandable language, and a list of lawyers. DET.3.d		Are there regular periodic reviews of detention before a court or independent body, which can order release?	Kim v Russia ECtHR (2014) : The purpose of Article 5(4) ECHR is to guarantee to persons who are detained the right to judicial supervision of the lawfulness of the measure. Equal Rights Trust (ERT) (2012) : To avoid arbitrariness, detention should be subject to automatic, regular and periodic review throughout the period of detention, before a judicial body independent of the detaining authorities.	Regular periodic reviews are provided for in the Consolidated Immigration Act (for non-asylum seekers) and in Decree Law 142/2015 (for asylum seekers). Detention is always ordered by the District Police Chief and needs to be validated by a judge (Tribunal, for asylum seekers; Justice of Peace for all others), located in the same District as the pre-removal centre, within 96 hours of issuing the detention order. For asylum seekers, detention can be imposed for 60 days and subsequently extended for additional 60 days periods. EU Returns Directive: Article 13(3)	The right to free legal aid is provided by law for all foreigners subjected to a removal procedure, regardless of income. In principle, organisations running the centres provide legal assistance, but legal operators are few, generally inexperienced and often have part-time contracts. In practice, it is often difficult for lawyers to contact clients in detention. All pre-removal centres have adopted a practice of confiscating mobile phones from detainees upon their admission, which makes it extremely difficult to maintain a communication channel with their clients. Public telephones are available, and detainees receive scratch cards to place phone calls. It is very difficult for anyone (including lawyers) to call a detainee from outside. Also, due to the Covid-19 pandemic, heavy restrictions are placed on access to pre-removal centres, including for lawyers. After the renewal of bilateral repatriation agreements with Tunisia in summer 2020, Tunisian nationals are repatriated in particularly fast procedures and due to the mentioned restrictions, there were instances of Tunisian detainees who were never be able to meet their lawyers prior to removal.	DECRETO LEGISLATIVO 25 Luglio 1998, n. 286, Testo Unico delle Disposizioni Concernenti la Disciplina dell'immigrazione e Norme sulla Condizione dello Straniero. PRS.1.a	Stateless born on territory	Is there a provision in law for stateless children born on the territory to be granted nationality?	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 1 European Convention on Nationality, 1997: Article 2 Convention on the Rights of the Child 1989: Article 7 Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child (2017): States should strengthen measures to grant nationality to children born in their territory in situations where they would otherwise be stateless. European Parliament (2018): The EU and its MS should ensure that childhood statelessness is adequately addressed in national laws in full compliance with Article 7 CRC.	In the Italian system, nationality is regulated by Law 91/1992 and implementing decrees 572/1993 and 362/1994. Generally, the acquisition of nationality is based on the jus sanguinis principle. The criterion of jus soli is applied exclusively in a residual manner. An Italian national at birth is anyone “(...) who is born on the territory of the Republic if both parents are unknown or stateless, or if the child does not follow the nationality of his/her parents in accordance with the laws of their State of origin”. In practice, children born in Italy to stateless parents acquire nationality: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. When both parents are unknown or recognised as stateless by law; 2. When under the law of the parents’ country of origin, children born abroad do not acquire their parents’ nationality (e.g. because ius soli is applied). Italian Nationality is also recognised at birth to a child found on the Italian territory, whose parents are both unknown. However, a further requirement must be fulfilled in that “it has not been proven [that the person concerned] possesses any other nationality”.	LEGGE 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, Nuove norme sulla cittadinanza, modificata dalla Legge 132/18, Arts. 1(1)(b) & (2): https://www.normattiva.it/atto/caricaDettaglioAtto?atto.dataPubblicazioneGazzetta=1992-02-15&atto.codiceRedazionale=092G0162&atto.articolo.numero=0&qId=&tabID=0.22518485625575413&title=lbl.dettaglioAtto (IT) DECRETO DEL PRESIDENTE DELLA REPUBBLICA 12 ottobre 1993, n. 572 Regolamento di esecuzione della legge 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, recante nuove norme sulla cittadinanza. PRS.1.b		Is the provision for otherwise stateless children to acquire nationality automatic or non-automatic (i.e. by application)?	UNHCR (2012): The 1961 Convention provides Contracting States with two alternatives for granting nationality to otherwise stateless children born in their territory: either automatic acquisition upon birth or upon application. ENS (2015): The 1961 Convention and the ECN oblige the conferral of nationality to otherwise stateless children born on the territory. The optimal method is to grant nationality automatically at birth.	It is automatic by law, but non-automatic in practice. Italian law states that children born in Italy obtain Italian nationality at birth by operation of the law when born to stateless parents or to parents who cannot transmit their nationality according to the law of their country of origin. However, in practice, parents must provide relevant supporting documents to the municipal Nationality Office for their children to obtain Italian nationality (e.g. in the case of a child born in Italy to Cuban parents (where jus soli applies), parents are often requested to provide a declaration from the Cuban Embassy to confirm this).	LEGGE 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, Nuove norme sulla cittadinanza, modificata dalla Legge 132/18, Art. 1(1)(b): https://www.normattiva.it/atto/caricaDettaglioAtto?atto.dataPubblicazioneGazzetta=1992-02-15&atto.codiceRedazionale=092G0162&atto.articolo.numero=0&qId=&tabID=0.7809808931921656&title=lbl.dettaglioAtto (IT) CIR-ENS, Ending Childhood Statelessness: A study on Italy, Working paper 07/15, June 2015: https://www.statelessness.eu/resources/ending-childhood-statelessness-study-italy

PRS.1.d		Are stateless children required to prove they cannot access another nationality to acquire the nationality of the country of birth? If yes, please describe how this is determined in practice.	UNHCR (2012): A Contracting State cannot avoid the obligations to grant its nationality to a person who would otherwise be stateless based on its own interpretation of another State’s nationality laws. The burden of proof must be shared between the claimant and the authorities. Decision-makers must consider Articles 3 & 7 CRC and adopt an appropriate standard of proof. Special procedural considerations to address the acute challenges faced by children in communicating basic facts about their nationality should be respected.	The provision is automatic in law, but in practice parents must provide relevant supporting document. At the registration of birth, parents are required to provide a declaration of birth and an identification document (e.g. a permit to stay or a passport). Documentation can be substituted by two witnesses in the case of undocumented migrants. In this situation, the child is registered with the nationality of their parents based on their alleged origin. Practice shows for example that parents are required to provide a declaration by their country of origin stating that the child is not a national under domestic law. When the evidence is seemed insufficient, the child will not be granted Italian nationality, even if they don't acquire another nationality.	es/ending-childhood-statelessness-study-italy

PRS.1.g	What are the age limits (if any) for making an application for nationality for a stateless person born on the territory?	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 1(2) UNHCR (2012): Contracting States need to accept applications lodged at a time beginning not later than the age of 18 and ending not earlier than the age of 21. ENS (2015): Closing the window of opportunity to apply for a nationality has the effect of leaving it in the hands of parents to take the necessary steps to secure a nationality for their child.	In addition to situations where nationality is granted at birth, Italian legislation provides another mode of acquisition of nationality based on conditional jus soli. This criterion is applied to otherwise stateless children who, albeit born on Italian territory do not obtain Italian nationality at birth since they do not fall in the legal situations enshrined in art 1 of law 91/92. Article 4 paragraph 2 of Law n. 91/1992 states that "the foreign person born in Italy, who has been legally resident without interruption on its territory until the age of majority, becomes a national upon application, filed within one year from turning 18, where (s)he expresses the willingness to acquire Italian nationality". This rule must be considered as a safeguard for children born in Italy whose parents are at risk of statelessness. If the child remains stateless on reaching the age of majority, they may submit an application for Italian nationality up to the age of 19 if they can meet certain conditions, including a declaration of will (dichiarazione di volontà) to the competent authority, and uninterrupted residence proven through residence permits, school reports, vaccination records, medical certificates etc.	LEGGE 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, Nuove norme sulla cittadinanza, modificata dalla Legge 132/18, Arts. 4(2) & 1(1)(b): https://www.normattiva.it/atto/caricaDettaglioAtto?atto.dataPubblicazioneGazzetta=1992-02-15&atto.codiceRedazionale=092G0162&atto.articolo.numero=0&qId=&tabID=0.7809808931921656&title=lbl.dettaglioAtto (IT) Read in conjunction with: DECRETO DEL PRESIDENTE DELLA REPUBBLICA 12 ottobre 1993, n. 572 Regolamento di esecuzione della legge 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, recante nuove norme sulla cittadinanza. PRS.1.h		Are there specific provisions to protect the right to a nationality of children born to refugees?	UNHCR (2012) : Where the nationality of the parents can be acquired through a registration or other procedure, this will be impossible owing to the very nature of refugee status which precludes refugee parents from contacting their consular authorities.	No.
PRS.2.a	Foundlings	Are foundlings granted nationality automatically by law? If not automatic, please describe the procedure.	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961 : Article 2 European Convention on Nationality, 1997 : Article 6(1)(b)	By law, a person found on the Italian territory is an Italian national at birth. However, a further requirement is that 'it has not been proven [that the person concerned] possesses any other nationality'. This criterion is impossible to satisfy so the provision is interpreted to mean the child acquires Italian nationality unless there is proof that (s)he has obtained another. If an unrecognised child is abandoned in a hospital or other institution, or anywhere on Italian territory, the child is automatically granted Italian nationality at the moment of registration at the Population Registry Office. The civil officer who receives the communication of abandonment, drafts a report, gives a name and surname to the child, immediately informs the competent authorities, and registers the child in the Municipality as an Italian national.	LEGGE 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, Nuove norme sulla cittadinanza, modificata dalla Legge 132/18, Art. 1(2): https://www.normattiva.it/atto/caricaDettaglioAtto?atto.dataPubblicazioneGazzetta=1992-02-15&atto.codiceRedazionale=092G0162&atto.articolo.numero=0&qId=&tabID=0.7809808931921656&title=lbl.dettaglioAtto (IT) CIR-ENS, Ending Childhood Statelessness: A study on Italy, Working paper 07/15, June 2015: https://www.statelessness.eu/resources/ending-childhood-statelessness-study-italy
PRS.2.b		Is there an age limit (e.g. 'new-born' or 'infant') in law or practice specifying when a foundling would qualify for nationality?	UNHCR (2012) : At a minimum, the safeguard should apply to all young children who are not yet able to communicate information about the identity of their parents or their place of birth.	There is no reference to an age limit in the nationality law. In the Civil Code, the word 'foundling' is connected to the birth of the child. In CIR's opinion, the concept of 'foundling' could not be connected to a teenager, for example. European Convention on Nationality, 1997 : Article 6(4)(d) Committee on the Rights of the Child (2015) : Ensure that the child is not stateless or discriminated against during the waiting period between arrival and formal adoption.	Law 91/92 states that any minor adopted by an Italian national is considered an Italian national. The age limit is 18 years-old. Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child (2017) : Take all necessary measures to ensure that all children are immediately registered at birth and issued birth certificates, irrespective of their migration status or that of their parents.	Yes, following birth registration, a copy of the birth certificate is issued by the Registry Office. PRS.5.c		Is the child’s nationality determined or recorded upon birth registration? If yes, please describe how and by whom (e.g. if the mother/father’s nationality is recorded and/or automatically attributed to the child, if there’s a formal procedure, if information on both parents is recorded etc.)	Convention on the Rights of the Child, 1989 : Articles 3 & 7	The birth certificate does not contain the nationality of the child, but only that of the parents. The child’s nationality is recorded at the time of registration on the Municipal Population Registry. The nationality is automatically recorded on the basis of the parent’s nationality. If this is unclear, practice shows that the tendency is to record a presumed nationality, such as that of the parents’ country of origin. PRS.5.d		If a child's nationality is not determined or recorded upon birth registration, is there a legal framework to determine the child's nationality later? If yes, please describe the procedure, including the legal grounds, deadlines and competent authority.	Convention on the Rights of the Child, 1989 : Articles 3 & 7 UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961 : Articles 1 & 4 UNHCR (2012) : States need to determine whether a child would otherwise be stateless as soon as possible so as not to prolong a child's status of undetermined nationality. Such a period should not exceed five years.	Yes, it is possible to ask for the correction/revision or integration of the birth certificate. The claim must be lodged before the Civil Court in the district of the Civil Registry Office where the birth certificate has been registered. There is no timeframe nor deadline to lodge the claim and it is not necessary to be assisted by a lawyer. There is no fee for submitting the claim although applicants can be requested to pay bureaucratic expenses or taxes (e.g., stamps). When a child is registered, the civil registrar does not certify the state of origin of the newborn. When the parents cannot prove their nationality, the registrar should, in theory, indicate "undocumented information". Any new development should be registered once it occurs. The parents are responsible for informing the Registry office of any update. PRS.5.e		Are there credible reports to suggest that children are prevented from registering in practice because of parents' legal status or other reasons (please specify)?	Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child (2017) : Urge States parties to take all necessary measures to ensure that all children are immediately registered at birth and issued birth certificates, irrespective of their migration status or that of their parents. Legal and practical obstacles to birth registration should be removed. Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration : States will contribute resources and expertise to strengthen the capacity of national civil registries to facilitate timely access by refugees and stateless persons to civil and birth registration. Global Compact on Refugees : States commit to fulfil the right of all individuals to a legal identity and ensure that migrants are issued documentation and civil registry documents. European Parliament Resolution (2019) : Calls on Member States to take immediate corrective measures to stop discriminatory birth registration.	There are no current/recent reports to suggest children are prevented from registering in practice, although there have been historic reports of barriers for children born outside hospitals or health structures. PRS.5.f		Are there mandatory reporting requirements that would deter undocumented parents from coming forward to register their children (e.g. health or civil registry authorities required to report undocumented migrants)?	Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child, JGC No. 4 (2017) and JGC No. 3 (2017) : Legal and practical obstacles to birth registration should be removed, including by prohibiting data sharing between health providers or civil servants responsible for registration with immigration enforcement authorities; and not requiring parents to produce documentation regarding their migration status. Children's personal data, in particular biometric data, should only be used for child protection purposes. Council of Europe: ECRI General Policy Recommendation No. 16(2016) on safeguarding irregularly present migrants from discrimination : States should clearly prohibit the sharing of information about migrants suspected of irregular presence with immigration authorities. These firewalls must be binding on state authorities and the private sector.	No.
PRS.5.g		Is there a statutory deadline for birth registration? If yes, please state the deadline and whether late birth registration is possible in law and practice.	Committee on the Rights of Migrant Workers and Members of their Families & Committee on the Rights of the Child (2017) : Measures should also be taken to facilitate late registration of birth and to avoid financial penalties for late registration. UN Human Rights Council, Resolution A/HRC/RES/20/4 : Calls upon States to ensure free birth registration, including free or low-fee late birth	The law states that the declaration of birth may be presented either to the municipality within 10 days of the birth, or to the hospital management within three days. Late registration is possible and the reason for the delay should be provided. The reasons for the delay are assessed by the public prosecutor (procuratore della Repubblica). PRS.6.b		Are there particular sections of the population - such as minority groups or people affected by conflict - believed to be stateless/at risk of statelessness? Please provide details and source of information.	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 9 UNHCR (2014): Action 4 UN Human Rights Council (2019): States should take legislative, administrative and policy measures aimed at eliminating statelessness affecting minorities.	Yes. There are estimated to be between 3,000 to 15,000 people stateless or at risk of statelessness in Italy. Most belong to the Roma community originating from former Yugoslavia; the rest come from Tibet, Palestine, Eritrea and Ethiopia. Since the dissolution of Yugoslavia, it became difficult (or impossible), for ex-nationals of the former Yugoslavia to obtain nationality from the new states that emerged. The problem disproportionately affected Roma communities who had already arrived in Italy before the dissolution but also those who arrived after. They often lack any documentation and encounter obstacles when seeking to clarify their civil status. Roma children born in Italy to displaced families from the former Yugoslavia are thus disproportionately impacted. They often face difficulties accessing legal status and obtaining Italian nationality, passing on the risk of statelessness from generation to generation. PRS.6.c		Has the Government implemented any other measures specifically aimed at reducing (risk of) statelessness? No. In 2012, a 'National Strategy for the Social Inclusion of Roma People' was introduced, which aimed to reduce statelessness/risk of statelessness by 2020. However, no significant activity or campaign has been undertaken towards achieving this goal. Under the National Strategy, a 'Juridical Roundtable' was established with the support of the Italian Ministry of Interior along with other competent ministries and civil society (including CIR) to elaborate concrete proposals for the reduction of statelessness among Roma Communities. PRS.7.a	Deprivation of nationality	Are there any provisions on deprivation of nationality that could render a person stateless? Please state whether there is a safeguard against statelessness established in law and on what grounds deprivation of nationality may result in statelessness (e.g. national security, fraud, etc.).	UN Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness, 1961: Article 8 & 9 European Convention on Nationality, 1997: Article 7(3) Universal Declaration of Human Rights: Article 15(2) Principles on Deprivation of Nationality and the Draft Commentary: Principle 2.2: Deprivation of nationality refers to any loss, withdrawal or denial of nationality that was not voluntarily requested by the individual; Principles 4, 5 & 6 Report of the Secretary-General on Human Rights and Arbitrary Deprivation of Nationality (2009): para. 23 UNHCR Guidelines on Statelessness No.5 (2020): the prohibition of arbitrary deprivation of nationality also includes situations where there is no formal act by a State but where the practice of its competent authorities clearly shows that they have ceased to consider a particular individual/group as national(s) (e.g. where authorities persistently refuse to issue or renew documents without providing an explanation or justification).	Yes. There is no safeguard to prevent statelessness, therefore provisions on deprivation of nationality can, in theory, render a person stateless. The law sets out when loss and/or deprivation of nationality can occur. Automatic loss occurs when a person joins the army of another state; accepts a public position with another State or public body or an international body that Italy does not recognise; acquires nationality or a government post in a State with which Italy is in a state of war. Additionally, amendments to the Nationality Law in 2018 introduced the possibility to deprive only a naturalised national of their Italian nationality in the event of a final sentence for the following crimes: terrorist acts; subversion of the constitutional order; subversive association; constitution, promotion or participation in armed groups; assistance and training of members of armed groups; assistance of members of subversive associations and of terrorist associations; misappropriation of properties and funds seized in order to prevent from financially supporting terrorist activities.	LEGGE 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, Nuove norme sulla cittadinanza, modificata dalla Legge 132/18: https://www.normattiva.it/atto/carica/DettaglioAtto?atto.dataPubblicazioneGazzetta=1992-02-15&atto.codiceRedazionale=092G0162&atto.articolo.numero=0&qId=&tabID=0.8150194582286421&title=lbl.dettaglioAtto (IT) DECRETO DEL PRESIDENTE DELLA REPUBBLICA 12 ottobre 1993, n. 572 Regolamento di esecuzione della legge 5 febbraio 1992, n. 91, recante nuove norme sulla cittadinanza. The Civil Officer registers a declaration of loss of nationality in the Population Register and transfers it to the Mayor. The assessment should be carried out within 120 days from the receipt of the documentation. Deprivation of nationality of a naturalised national following a criminal conviction can be proposed by the Ministry of Interior within three years of the criminal conviction and it is adopted through a Decree of the President of the Republic. The law does not provide any safeguards against deprivation of nationality where this results in statelessness. Decisions can be appealed and, as a general rule, any person can access the court. UNHCR (2014) : Applicants must have access to legal counsel.	Yes, there are several law firms and organisations providing specialist advice, including civil society organisations providing free advice and specialist services. In 2016, UNHCR set up a network of organisations and lawyers working on statelessness. The network - Tavolo Apolidia – aims to elaborate proposals and recommendations on addressing statelessness for governments and authorities and to raise public awareness on the issue. In addition, several members of the network also provide individual counselling to stateless people.	Some examples of organisations providing specialist advice include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> · Progetto Meltingpot · ASGI – Associazione per gli Studi Giuridici sull’Immigrazione · Consiglio Italiano per I Rifugiati · Association 21 luglio · Council of Europe JUSTROM Programme (legal clinic) Tavolo Apolidia: https://tavoloapolidia.org/ (IT)
